Last recommendation BDM: BUY with target price 6.6 PLN/share (2025/05/20) LINK

BCG segment

In Q2 2025, there were negligible sales of the BCG10 vaccine. This was due to the late announcement of a tender procedure by the Public Procurement Office at the Ministry of Health (the tender is currently ongoing) and the lack of export sales. Sales of Onko BCG were lower y/y, but higher than our forecasts. After a strong Q1 2025 in terms of revenue, we expected weaker results in Q2 2025. In H1 2025 as a whole, sales of Onko BCG increased by +30% y/y. Exports accounted for approximately 60% of this increase.

Traditional segment

Distreptaza also recorded a sharp decline in sales. In this case, the reason for this is also the transfer of orders to H2 2025. In Q2 2025, there were again no sales of Gamma Anty D, which may still be a consequence of the very high sales of this product in Q4 2024. Lakcid recorded PLN 168,000 in revenue, although we expected sales of this probiotic to cease completely. The drug Davoster is also now available and has been covered by reimbursement since October 2025.

The gross sales margin was 67.2%, compared to 62.1% expected. SG&A costs increased significantly (+30% y/y). This implies an EBIT loss of PLN -4.5 million, compared to a profit of PLN 2.8 million a year earlier, and EBITDA of PLN -1.1 million (vs. PLN 4.4 million in Q2 2024). At the net level, the loss amounted to PLN -4.8 million (vs. PLN -3.7 million expected).

BDM's comment: The Q2 2025 results turned out to be significantly lower than our forecasts, mainly due to lower sales revenues. In our opinion, the significantly higher gross margin on sales is due to the very high share of Onko BCG in revenues and the launch of sales of this drug in vials, which is more profitable than ampoules. Sales of other products were disappointing, but it is important to take into account the specific nature of sales to distributors, which are very uneven between quarters but should even out on an annual basis.

As we expected, selling and general administrative expenses increased (+30% y/y), with administrative expenses alone rising +45% y/y. This is mainly due to the increased costs of launching the Research and Development Centre and the new production plant, as well as higher payroll costs. This increase was mitigated by a decrease in export transport costs.

The company's liquidity situation improved significantly. The repayment date for receivables from a distributor, which had problems with the timely sale of Onko BCG due to a change in the form from ampoules to vials, was extended until the end of 2025. Thanks to an annex concerning credit limits, the situation at the end of H1 2025 improved significantly and, in our opinion, is stable. In Q3 2025, the company began the process of increasing its target capital, which will help in the implementation of its development projects.

To prepare this analytical report BDM has not considered individual needs or situations of customers. BDM is not obliged to guarantee that a financial instrument or financial instruments covered by this report are appropriate for a given investor.

Opinions of an analyst and any recommendations included in this report neither constitute an investment, legal, accounting or tax advice or a statement that any investment strategy is adequate or appropriate because of individual circumstances concerning the customer, nor constitute personal recommendation.

The analysis is for information purposes only and does not constitute an advertisement or an offer or an invitation to subscribe or purchase financial instruments.

An investor should be aware that each investment decision in the capital market is subject to numerous risks that finally can result in a financial loss suffered by him. The return rate on individual investments can fluctuate depending on various factors beyond the control of the investor. Therefore, a customer who makes a single investment decision should not only check currency and correctness of individual assumptions made by the analyst in the report but also to have an independent assessment and own analysis (also based on scenarios other than the ones presented in the report) taking into consideration the level of acceptable risk. When deciding on activity on the capital market the investor should take into consideration the fact that the investment portfolio structure (diversification of investment through possessing more than one financial instrument) can reduce risk exposure to an individual instrument bringing a negative rate of return in a given period. At the same time, however, it can lead to limitation of a positive rate of return the investor could achieve in the case of a single financial instrument in a given time period. The investor should be aware that the investment portfolio structure and any investment strategy for the stock market do not guarantee the achievement of a positive rate of return and do not protect him against final loss.

For the first time this report has been made available to the public on 01.10.2025 (08:15 CEST). Date of preparing the report is the date of making it accessible. Before the recommendation was made accessible, information included in it had been confidential.

The prices of the financial instruments listed in the document have been taken from the real-time pricing as provided by Bloomberg. Data concerning financial instrument prices used in the report could be loaded to 24 hours before the moment of completing the report.
