

EUROCASH

ANALYTICAL REPORT - SUMMARY

We raise our target price to 23,9 PLN/share and rate Accumulate The results of Q3'19 were better than we expected in previous recommendation. The board standed it's guidance concerning finalizing integration of retail segment in '19 and claimed the positive trends are maintained. The process of optimization in EC Distribution and high CPI should support results of '20 (we estimate growth of EBITDA adj. MSR 17 ca. 9% y/y). The board announced update of strategy in retail segment at the beginning of '20. On the other hand, results' growth may be slown down by challenging labour market, loss of PKN Orlen contract, possibility of implementation of retail tax and change of excise tax.

Company profile

Eurocash is a leading wholesale distributor of fast moving consumer goods. It operates in wholesale food distribution (it possesses c.a. 26% market share; it operates through cash & carry and distribution) and in retail segment, in which it develops Delikatesy Centrum markets. In addition to this, the company conducts new projects e.g. Duży Ben and Kontigo.

Valuation summary

We base our valuation on two methods: discounted cash flows model (70% contribution in the final valuation), which implies share price 24,0 PLN and peer valuation (30% share in the final valuation), which indicates target price 23,8 PLN. We set the target price 23,9 PLN.

Forecasts and multiples

We expect that in  $Q\bar{4}$ '19 the company will reach 6,1 bln PLN of sales, c.a. 251 mln PLN EBITDA MSSF 16 and 67 mln PLN of net profit. In '19 we forecast c.a 24,7 bln PLN of sales, 807 mln PLN EBITDA (EBITDA adj. = 791 mln PLN) and 86 mln PLN of adjusted net income. In 2020 we estimate 25,8 bln PLN of sales, 786 mln PLN EBITDA and 110 mln PLN of net income. Currently, Eurocash trades at EV/EBITDA'19 MSSF 16 = 6,7x and P/E'19 = 36x.

Risk factors: I) Macro environment II) Increase of wages and lack of employees. III) Market competition (mainly because of the discounters). IV) Legal changes (Sunday ban; turnover tax). V) Potential acquisitions and their integration. VI) Seasonality of financial results. VII) Loss of PKN Orlen contract. VIII) Change of excise tax.

Explanations of terminology:

EBIT - earnings before interest and tax EBITDA — earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization Net debt - interest bearing debt minus cash and equivalents WACC - weighted average cost of capital CAGR - cumulative average annual growth EPS - earnings per share DPS - dividend per share CEPS - net profit plus depreciation per share EV - market capitalization plus interest bearing debt minus cash and equivalents EV/S - market capitalization / sales EV/EBITDA – EV / sales P/EBIT – market capitalization / EBIT MC/S — market capitalization / sales P/E — market capitalization / net profit P/BV — market capitalization / book value P/CE - market capitalization / net profit plus depreciation ROE – net profit / equity ROA - net income / assets Gross margin - gross profit on sales / sales EBITDA margin – EBITDA / sales EBIT margin – EBIT / sales Net margin – net profit / sales

The strengths and weaknesses of the valuation methods used in the report:

DCF – the most popular and the most effective of the valuation methods - it is based on the discounting of future cash flows generated by the company. The disadvantage is the high sensitivity to changes in the basic financial parameters forecast in the model (interest rates, exchange rates, profits, residual value). DDM – the method is based on discounting future cash flows from dividends. The advantage of the valuation is the inclusion of future financial results and cash flows from dividends. The main disadvantages are the high sensitivity to changes in the basic financial parameters forecasted in the model (capital cost, profits, residual value) and the risk of changing the dividend payment policy.

Comparative – the method is based on current and foreast duringing of each provided provided in the second second provided in the second second provided in the second second provided industries, which better than DCF shows the current market situation. The main disadvantages are the difficulty in choosing the right companies for comparison, the risk of ineffective valuation of companies compared at a given moment, as well as high volatility (along with price fluctuations).

Explanation of ratings:

Buy – we believe that the security will reach the target price in the recommended period, which significantly exceeds the current market price (at least + 15%);

Accumulate - we believe that the security will reach the target price in the recommended period, which exceeds the current market price (in the range of +5 to + 14.99%);

Hold - we believe that a security in the recommended period will fluctuate around the target price, which is close to the current market price (in the range from -4.99% to + 4.99%);

Reduce - we believe that the security will reach the target price in the recommended period, which is lower than the market price (range of decline from 5% to 14.99%);

Sell - we believe that a security in the recommended period will reach the target price, which is significantly lower than the market price (suggested erosion of the value exceeds 15%).

Target price - the theoretical price which, in our opinion, should reach a security in the recommended period; This price is the result of the common sector planary scale (eg based on DCF, comparative and other valuations), market conditions and the industry as well as other factors subjectively considered by the analyst.

Persons who will receive this report and who are not professional customers or qualified investors should consult an independent financial advisor before making any investment decision based on this analysis in order to obtain any necessary and crucial explanations concerning the contents of this analysis.

To prepare this analytical report BDM has not considered individual needs or situations of customers. BDM is not obliged to guarantee that a financial instrument or financial instruments covered by this report are appropriate for a given investor.

Opinions of an analyst and any recommendations included in this report neither constitute an investment, legal, accounting or tax advice or a statement that any investment strategy is adequate or appropriate because of individual circumstances concerning the customer, nor constitute personal recommendation. The analysis is for information purposes only and does not constitute an advertisement or an offer or an invitation to subscribe or purchase financial instruments.

An investor should be aware that each investment decision in the capital market is subject to numerous risks that finally can result in a financial loss suffered by him. The return rate on individual investments can fluctuate depending on various factors beyond the control of the investor. Therefore, a customer who makes a single investment decision should not only check currency and correctness of individual assumptions made by the analyst in the report but also to have an independent assessment and own analysis (also based on scenarios other than the ones presented in the report) taking into consideration the level of acceptable risk. When deciding on activity on the capital market the Investor should take into consideration the fact that the investment portfolio structure (diversification of investment through possessing more than one financial instrument) can reduce risk exposure to an individual instrument bringing a negative rate of return in a given period. At the same time, however, it can lead to limitation of a positive rate of return the investor could achieve in the case of a single financial instrument in a given time period. The investor should be aware that the investment portfolio structure and any investment strategy for the stock market do not guarantee the achievement of a positive rate of return and do not protect him against final loss.
